John Ford has worked successfully on many of my projects for over 20 years now. Work has included the building and renovation of agricultural storage reservoirs, amenity lakes etc, as well as earthworks and drainage associated with site preparation for agricultural buildings.

We have worked together on numerous earthworks projects, both large and small, and he has always carried out the work in a professional and workmanlike manner. Sites have always been left in a tidy state following completion of the work.

I hope to continue our working relationship in the future and would not hesitate to recommend his services to others for similar earthwork projects in the future.
